

PRESS RELEASE 28 July 2008

Select Software success with browser-based Select HR

Select Software launched the very latest in their HR solution range, the browser based Select HR, at this year's Human Resources Software Show (HRSS) at London Olympia on 16 and 17 June 2008.

Select HR combines the knowledge and experience Select Software has gained over the past decade with up-to-the-minute technology in a browser-based setting. Making the most of their Microsoft Gold Certified Partner status, Select Software have included links to many Microsoft products, making Select HR an excellent all round HR solution for any business – straight out of the box.

This eagerly awaited product is fully customisable with many exciting features like drag and drop workflow and was well received by the large numbers of attendees at HRSS. Some of the quotes received at the exhibition from potential clients included:

“Best seen at the show, I love the fact that you used WWF – you are almost certain to be shortlisted! “

“You are the only supplier we felt could meet our needs.”

“I really liked it – I loved the dashboards!”

“It's the best yet!”

Dee Caporali, Sales & Marketing Director comments, “this year's HRSS at Olympia was an outstanding success for us all at Select Software. Our Development Team spent two years making Select HR into the product it is today and we are all delighted that it was so well received at its launch. This cutting edge technology combined with our unique experience in HR software design sets us apart from our competitors and we are thrilled with the result.”
